

What's the first thing you think of when you think of Christmas? Is it Santa? Is it presents? Maybe even festive cheer (hah, sure). Whatever it might be, I'm here to tell you there's a right answer...

Christmas dinner!

On the 20th and 21st of December, both Meadowcroft's Hub and Gallery hosted Christmas dinners, extending their invitations to both pupils and parents alike. It was nothing short of a Banquet, spearheaded by Meadowcroft School's very own Master Chef: Mr Agar. No ill-conceived attempt at bucking tradition here, just a wholesome, run of the mill, Christmas dinner... and it couldn't have been better.

Listen, we're talking stuffing, we're talking turkey, we're roast potatoes, we're talking steamed veg, and we're talking gravy and Yorkshire puddings (god bless you Mr Agar). The only thing capable of warming our bellies more than Mr Agar's cooking, and astounding us more than Jake's capacity to put away roast potatoes (seriously, how does he do it), were the lovely comments made by parents about the school...

Here are a few, that may or may not, have brought a tear or two to Mr Hunter's eye (keep it between us, okay?)

"Meadowcroft is a fantastic school with great provision and caring staff, my son Reece has done really well and progressed to levels I didn't think he would." ~ Reece's Mum.

"Meadowcroft school is a wonderful school Warren has come on lots since starting and starting to enjoy school at last" ~ Warren's Mum

"Absolutely great staff happy to see them all smile every day. Hayden
