Mrs Cunnane was sure to get her own back however, challenging various pupils to 1 v 1 gladiator matches in the Nation's arena.

Jason, too busy laughing at their helmets, woefully underestimated Mrs Cunnane's competitive spirit; her battle cry is sure to haunt him for the rest of his days...

Last but not least, the most heart-warming story has to be Leanna and Mrs Wahid's experience on the Nation's slide. Stuck and scared, Leanna had regrettably managed to trap her leg at the slide's precipice, with only Mrs Wahid ready to respond. Mrs Wahid is known for many things; her ceaseless smile, her unparalleled empathy... her fear of heights. Although the colour did drain from her once caramel complexion, Mrs Wahid not only came to Leanna's rescue but also barrelled down the slide moments after; it's safe to say Inflata Nation will never forget the shriek she made as she descended its heights.

Another successful end of term trip!

P.S, with staff having so much fun they forgot to take photos (no surprise), here's a reminder of who the true gladiatorial king is (that's right Mrs Cunnane, I said it).
